

A Rare Chance to Taste the magical wines of Falkenstein

Riesling is the greatest grape in the world and here at Ok Omens it's always Riesling season.

Winter? Riesling is basically a tropical beach in a glass.

Spring? Drink with fava beans!

Summer? Replace all your water consumption with Riesling!

There is never a bad time to chug a Riesling, so you should probably get started tonight.

This weekend we are featuring the very hard to source wines of Hofgut Falkenstein. These wines are old school and full of soul. We only have a couple bottles of each, so don't miss out.

---Flight of all three wines for $29---

-Pair the flight with Oysters or Ahi Torta and die happy-

Masochistically Dry Riesling that tastes like you made a big batch of salty limeade but forgot to add the sugar. And then instead of serving it on ice, you served it in glasses filled with cold, wet, mossy river stones. It's so dry, tart and salty it almost hurts. The more you suffer, the more it shows you really care.

Slightly Off Dry, Textural Riesling that tastes like drinking yellow gatorade in the parking lot of a gas station....but delicious.

falkenstein 'herrenberg spatlese feinherb palm' saar 2020 (4oz) 16

Off Dry Featherweight Riesling that has the sweetness of a perfectly balanced margarita, but if the margarita was made with melted glacial water and candied lime peel.

falkenstein 'euchariusberg kabinett kugel' saar 2020 (4oz) 16

Sparkling, Orange, Rose, and White

French Champagne because the best way to start a night is with a glass of the real stuff. Tastes like you spread lemon curd on fresh baked sourdough and sprinkled it with grapefruit pith and pine nuts.
